1.3. Provide a comprehensive, step-by-step description of the method that explains how athletes will go through the selection process (include maximum Team size).

The team will be selected through discretionary measures as described in Section 2.

2. DISCRETIONARY SELECTION (if applicable)

2.1. Provide rationale for utilizing discretionary selection (if any):

The sport of rugby is not a measured or timed event. Rugby is a team sport that requires a wide range of individual skills that combine to form effective units in a dynamic environment. In the selection of athletes who will compete together as a team, it is difficult to make selection decisions based solely upon objective criteria. It is the belief of USA Rugby that considering the mix of Selection Criteria set out in Section 2.2 will result in the best athletes who will work together and be the most competitive team.

2.2. List the discretionary criteria and explain how they will be used (if any):

Rugby is a team sport requiring effective combinations and individual skills. Thus, the following discretionary criteria are considered in the selection of players. The collective whole of the team and balance of selections of athletes will be prioritized over any one criteria.

2.2.1. The following criteria shall be used to select the Olympic Games Team:

Physical

- Speed:
  - 40-meter and / or 40-yard sprint times
  - 10-meter sprint times
- Aerobic / Anaerobic Fitness:
  - Yo-Yo Intermittent Recovery Test (YIRT) Level 1
  - Repeated Sprint Double (RSD)
  - Bronco Fitness Test
- Strength / Power:
  - Bench Press 5 Repetition Maximum (5RM)
  - Weighted Pull Up 5RM
  - Squat 5RM

USA Rugby Strength & Conditioning Standards are developed by USA Rugby Coaches & Strength & Conditioning Coaches based on current international 7s play and the minimum standards required to compete with the top tier 7s teams. USA Rugby’s Standards are updated periodically as the level of 7s play increases. The current version, as of Jan. 1, 2019, can be found in Attachment B.

Technical

- Athletes will be evaluated on the four technical core skills (catch-pass, tackle, ruck, evasive running) based on performance in one or more of the events listed in Section 1.2.1.
• Athletes will be evaluated on her specialist skills (restart kicks, restart aerial skills, scrum engage, conversion kicks, lineout throws, lineout aerial skills) based on performance in one or more of the events listed in Section 1.2.1.

Tactical

• Athletes will be evaluated on tactical awareness in game situations in one or more of the events listed in Section 1.2.1 by national coaching staff which will be taken into consideration for selection.

Psychological/Social

• RESPECTFUL: On & off the field. On the field the athlete respects her opponents and respects the rules of the game. She respects the competitor’s code, to play with the desire, constructive attitude, and competitive spirit of the game of rugby. Athletes treat equipment, facilities, teammates, coaches, officials and all others with respect at all times. Leave meeting rooms, training venues, and other common areas better than when she finds it.

• INTEGRITY: The athlete attempts to do what’s right no matter who’s watching, even if the choice is unpopular or personally costly. The athlete does not engage in behavior that might cause division among players or staff. The athlete is mindful and cautious of remarks made to the media or others that may affect her teammates or the team overall.

• LEADERSHIP: Athletes positively influence their teammates, making them better and more productive.

• COACHABLE: The athlete should be open and embracing of new ideas as well as criticism. She is committed to placing the team’s needs above her own and therefore selections will be made with the team’s best interest in mind. The team comes first.

• GROWTH: The athlete has a growth-mindset—she sees herself as fluid, a work in progress.

Following the end of the events listed in Section 1.2.1, the Olympic Selection Committee will select a Team of 12 athletes who best meet the criteria above, considering the composition of the whole team.

2.3. Provide the name of the committee that will be responsible for making discretionary selections, along with a complete list of the members’ titles currently serving on the committee:
High Performance Director
General Manager of Women’s Rugby
International Athlete Representative
Head Coach, USA National Women’s Sevens Team

Should any individual be unable to serve on the committee, he/she will be replaced accordingly.

2.3.1. Specify the process that will be used to identify and handle any potential conflicts of interest involving a member of the committee.

Any member of the selection committee that has a possible conflict of interest must disclose it. If such conflict exists, the selection committee member must recuse him/herself from committee discussions and voting. Further, the committee member should not otherwise influence other members of the committee in the selection process. However, a committee member who recused him/herself, but who has relevant and necessary information with respect to athlete performance, for example a national team coach or high performance director, may, if requested by the selection committee, provide such information to the committee so long as such information is provided in a fair and unbiased manner and the committee member who declared the conflict of interest does not vote toward the final decision.

A conflict of interest, as it applies to USA Rugby national team(s) selections, is defined as an individual who has an affiliation outside of the national team with an athlete in contention for the applicable team selection will be deemed to have a conflict of interest:

1. Financial or business relationship with an athlete in contention, exclusive of USA Rugby national team athlete agreements.
2. Personal coach of an athlete in contention or a member of the athlete’s coaching staff (i.e., head or assistant coach in a club program or any member of a collegiate coaching staff), exclusive of USA Rugby national teams.
3. For athlete representatives, a teammate (same training club) of an athlete in contention.
4. Employed by, or has an ownership interest in, a club where the athlete in contention is training.
5. Any other personal or professional relationship with a contending athlete, whether present or past, that could compromise an individual’s ability to participate in the selection process in an unbiased manner.

6. Any of the above affiliations by a Related Person to the selection committee member. A Related Person is any person who is related by blood or marriage, or whose relationship with the selection committee member is similar to that of persons who are related by blood or marriage; including a spouse, domestic partner, parent or sibling, child, grandchild, or the spouse of any of these; or an individual living in the same home as the selection committee member.

If such conflict exists, the selection committee member must recuse him/herself from committee discussions and voting. A conflict of interest must be disclosed as soon as an individual is aware of a potential conflict. A conflict of interest disclosure can occur:

1. Self-disclosure. A conflict of interest exists for any selection committee member who meets the definition of a conflict detailed in the above definition(s). Conflicted individuals have an affirmative duty to make any potential conflicts known prior to the start of the selection process.

2. Situational Conflicts. At the onset of the selection process, it is not always definitive if a conflict exists, or will continue to exist, especially when the selection process spans multiple competitions. A selection committee member may initially have a conflict with an athlete in contention; however, once the athlete affiliated with the selection committee member is no longer in contention for team selection (i.e., did not meet a selection score to advance in the selection process, suffered an injury, etc.), the selection committee member is no longer deemed conflicted.

3. Evaluative Standard. USA Rugby’s Performance Game Board is the committee designated to evaluate conflicts of interest for performance selection committees. The evaluative standard will be to err on the side of the competing athletes.

4. Conflict Review. In the case where it is not clear if a conflict exists or where a potential situational conflict requires evaluation, an individual/program/committee may request that the conflict is reviewed by USA Rugby Performance Game Board. The request must be made prior to the start of the selection process, or as soon as possible after a potential conflict has been identified.

5. Athlete Rights. Any competing athlete who is involved in a selection process governed by this Conflict of Interest Guide for Athlete Selection who believes that a member of a selection committee is conflicted has the right to request that USA Rugby evaluate the potential conflict. Such request should be made as soon as the competing athlete identifies a possible conflict, and prior to the start of the final selection competition.

3. REMOVAL OF ATHLETES

3.1. Prior to entry by name to the Local Organizing Committee by the USOC, the NGB has jurisdiction over potential nominees.

An athlete who is to be nominated to the Team by the NGB may be removed for any of the following reasons, as determined by the NGB:

3.1.1. Voluntary withdrawal. Athlete must submit a written letter to the NGB CEO/Executive Director.

3.1.2. Injury or illness as certified by a physician (or medical staff) approved by the NGB. If an athlete refuses verification of his/her illness or injury by a physician (or medical staff) approved by the NGB, his/her injury will be assumed to be disabling and he/she may be removed.
