College players can potentially gain eligibility through a waiver process. This does require the player to be registered to or attempting to transfer to the club in question. For additional information regarding registering please see "How Do I Register" or "How Do I Transfer Clubs."

For college:

Please review the college player eligibility primer for answers to quick questions.

All college waivers must include:

-The college waiver request form

- A personal statement

- A personal statement is a summation of the individual circumstances which has lead the player to seek a waiver.

- Official transcripts for all schools attended post high school including showing the current semester/quarter

Depending on the type of waiver requested you will need additional supporting documentation as well.

For a 6th or 7th year eligibility waiver, please include official documentation for your high school graduation date. This is sometimes on your college transcripts themselves or can be as simply as a picture of your high school diploma.

For graduate students, please include proof of your undergraduate degree. This is sometimes on your college transcripts themselves or can be as simply as a picture of your undergraduate degree. Please know a graduate student must have obtained their undergraduate degree from a domestic institution.

For the college military exception, please include confirmation of your high school graduation date (see above), your date of birth, and active military service usually form DD-214.

For those seeking a less than full time status waiver, please know that there are a few different acceptable reasons why someone could be less than full time. Please include any official documentation regarding why you are less than full time including possibly a letter from a registrar officer/academic adviser regarding your situation.

Please know that all players have a right to an eligibility waiver and can submit one for any reason. The resulting additional supporting documentation should reflect the best evidence to support a reason why this waiver should be approved.

Please contact eligibility@usarugby.org or 303-539-0300 x110 with any additional questions.